Adam Coon enjoyed a stellar athletic career at Fowlerville High in wrestling, football and track before going to the University of Michigan.

Photos by Deb Utter

Fowlerville's Adam Coon defeats No. 1 ranked wrestler in recent match

Graduate-student heavyweight Adam Coon used a first-period takedown to hand No. 1 Kyle Snyder his first collegiate loss in more than two years as the No. 4-ranked University of Michigan wrestling team dropped a close 18-15 dual to No. 2 Ohio State on bonus points Sunday night (Feb. 11) in front of a record 8,303 fans at Crisler Center.

Coon, ranked second in the national rankings, countered a Snyder shot late in the first period and found his over-under position to toss Snyder to his back on the edge of the floor for the winning takedown -- though no back points --

Adam Coon lost to Kyle Snyder of Ohio State in last year's Big 10 finals, so his win over the previously undefeated Buckeye wrestler was an important one. The two of them will likely meet again at this year's Big 10 meet to be held at Michigan State University in March and at the NCAA tournament.

and rode out the period. The two wrestlers traded escapes in the second and third, and Snyder could not finish on multiple leg attacks throughout the match. Coon improved to 22-0 on the season, while Snyder, an Olympic and two-time world champion, suffered his first loss since the 2015 NCAA finals.

Michigan Senate Report

Safer Drinking Water

The Flint water crisis was caused by government at its worst, where unelected officials passed the buck on accountability and let critical safety measures slip through the cracks. That’s why I sponsored legislation to protect safety whistleblowers who see these incidents and to improve government transparency.

My colleagues in the state Legislature and I have proposed new precautions to ensure that all Michiganders are protected from future incidents like this and that those who create a risk to public health are held responsible for their actions.

This bipartisan legislation is a multi-bill package that includes aggressive penalties and fines for officials who put the wellbeing of the public in jeopardy, a requirement for water suppliers to be more transparent about how they determine water rates, and a new ombudsman position to provide whistleblower protection for state employees who report misconduct.

I know this is an emotional issue, and we’re working hard to make sure that we can avoid tragedies like this in the future. While these new protections would be a good start in the effort to keep our drinking water safe, Michigan still needs to solve the underlying issues that caused this crisis, such as aging lead pipes and irresponsible water-sourcing. Now, however, we can address those problems with the confidence of better accountability for the officials making the decisions.

The Flint water crisis proves that government makes mistakes. Thankfully some government mistakes are less severe and are within our power to fix. If you think that your local government made a mistake on your property tax assessment, you have the power to take action. If you believe that your assessment is in error, you can appeal to your local Board of Review in March and, if necessary, the Michigan Tax Tribunal. No attorney is necessary. Contact my office at 855-JOE-HUNE or at SenJHune@senate.michigan.gov if you’d like to receive a pamphlet with more information.

As always, if you have any questions or need information, please contact my office toll-free at 855-JOE-HUNE or email my office at SenJHune@senate.michigan.gov and my staff will be happy to assist you. My website, www.SenatorJoeHune.com, is also a good resource for information.

MSU Trustee candidate to speak at County Dems’ meeting on Feb. 22

With sexual abuse scandals rocking Michigan State University, a Democratic candidate for a seat on the university’s governing board will speak in Livingston County next week.

Dennis Denno, of East Lansing, will be a guest speaker at the Livingston County Democratic Party’s executive committee meeting on Thursday, Feb. 22, at 7 p.m.

The university has been in near turmoil since the resignation of President Lou Anna Simon due to the fallout from the scandal surrounding former MSU employee Dr. Larry Nassar. In his recent trials in Ingham and Eaton counties, more than 150 women testified that he sexually abused them under the guise of providing medical care. At the same time, questions have been raised about how MSU football Coach Mark Dantonio and MSU basketball Coach Tom Izzo have handled allegations of assault involving their programs.

In each general election, Michigan voters statewide elect members of the MSU board of trustees. The board’s make-up currently is tied, with 4 Democrats and 4 Republicans. This fall, two seats currently held by Republicans will be on the ballot, and Denno is running for the Democratic nomination for one of them. Candidates are nominated at the political parties’ nominating conventions, which will be next August for Democrats.

Denno is owner of the political consulting firm Denno Research, LLC. He has worked as a legislative aide to Democratic lawmakers, served as the communications director for the Michigan Democratic Party, and in 2007 helped create a new union at MSU, the Union of Non-Tenure Track Employees. He is active with the Arab-American Democrats and has been endorsed by the Michigan Democratic Party Arab-American Caucus, the Michigan Democratic Party Faith-Based Caucus, former Gov. Jennifer Granholm, and Michigan State University (MSU) Trustee Brian Mosallam, among others.

Also speaking will be Phil Volk, representing the Friends Committee on National Legislation. He will speak on building momentum for avoiding war with North Korea.

The meeting will be at RE/Max Platinum Auditorium, 6870 Grand River, between Brighton and Howell. Attendees should park in the back, use the rear entrance, and take the stairs or elevator down to the auditorium.

The party’s regular business meeting will follow.

2017 Water Quality Report for Village of Fowlerville

This report covers the drinking water quality for Village of Fowlerville for the 2017 calendar year. This information is a snapshot of the quality of the water that we provided to you in 2017. Included are details about where your water comes from, what it contains, and how it compares to Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) and State standards.

Your water comes from 5 groundwater wells, each over Avg. depth of 250-290 ft. drawing from the Michigan & Marshall Formations watershed. The State performed an assessment of our source water to determine the susceptibility or the relative potential of contamination. The susceptibility rating is on a seven-tiered scale from “very-low” to “very-high” based on geologic sensitivity, well construction, and water chemistry and contamination sources. The susceptibility of our source is [Well # 9 (moderately high) Well # 10 (moderately high) Well #11 (moderately high) Well #12 (moderately low) Well #13 (moderately low)].

Significant sources of contamination: The Village of Fowlerville has no contamination in our wells.

If you would like to know more about the report please contact, Cathy Elliott at the Village Office (517) 223-3771 or via e-mail at celliott@fowlerville.org

• Contaminants and their presence in water: Drinking Water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects can be obtained by calling the EPA’s Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

• Vulnerability of sub-populations: Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune systems disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. EPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium and other microbial contaminants are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

• Sources of drinking water: The sources of drinking water (both tap water and bottled water) include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and wells. Our water comes from wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally-occurring minerals and, in some cases, radioactive material, and can pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity.

- Contaminants that may be present in source water include:
- * Microbial contaminants, such as viruses and bacteria, which may come from sewage treatment plants, septic systems, agricultural livestock operations and wildlife.
 - * Inorganic contaminants, such as salts and metals, which can be naturally-occurring or result from urban storm water runoff, industrial or domestic wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining or farming.
 - * Pesticides and herbicides, which may come from a variety of sources such as agriculture and residential uses.
 - * Radioactive contaminants, which are naturally occurring or be the result of oil and gas production and mining activities.
 - * Organic chemical contaminants, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, which are by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production, and can also come from gas stations, urban storm water runoff, and septic systems.

In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, EPA prescribes regulations that limit the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by public water systems. Food and Drug Administration regulations establish limits for contaminants in bottled water which provide the same protection for public health.

Water Quality Data

The table below lists all the drinking water contaminants that we detected during the 2015 calendar year. The presence of these contaminants in the water does not necessarily indicate that the water poses a health risk. Unless otherwise noted, the data presented in this table is from testing done January 1 – December 31, 2015. The State allows us to monitor for certain contaminants less than once per year because the concentrations of these contaminants are not expected to vary significantly from year to year. All of the data is representative of the water quality, but some are more than one year old.

Terms and abbreviations used below:

- Maximum Contaminant Level Goal (MCLG): The level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MCLGs allow for a margin of safety.

- Maximum Contaminant Level (MCL): The highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. MCLs are set as close to the MCLGs as feasible using the best available treatment technology.
- Maximum Residual Disinfectant Level (MRDL): means the highest level of a disinfectant allowed in drinking water. There is convincing evidence that addition of a disinfectant is necessary for control of microbial contaminants.
- Maximum Residual Disinfectant Level Goal (MRDLG): means the level of a drinking water disinfectant below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MRDLGs do not reflect the benefits of the use of disinfectants to control microbial contaminants.
- N/A: Not applicable ND: not detectable at testing limit ppb: parts per billion or micrograms per liter ppm: parts per million or milligrams per liter pCi/l: picocuries per liter (a measure of radioactivity).
- Action Level: The concentration of a contaminant which, if exceeded, triggers treatment or other requirements that a water system must follow.

Lead (ppb)	15	0	1	No levels are above the action level 9/14/2017

*Unregulated contaminants are those for which EPA has not established drinking water standards. Monitoring helps EPA to determine where certain contaminants occur and whether it needs to regulate those contaminants.

Information about Lead: If Present, elevated levels of lead can cause serious health problems, especially for pregnant woman and young children. Lead in drinking water primarily from materials and components associated with service lines and home plumbing. Village of Fowlerville is responsible for providing high quality drinking water, but cannot control the variety of materials used in plumbing components. When your water has been sitting for several hours, you can minimize the potential for lead exposure by flushing your tap for 30 seconds to 2 minutes before using water for drinking or cooking. If you are concerned about lead in your water, you may wish to have your water tested. Information on lead in drinking water, test methods, and steps you can take to minimize exposure is available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline or at <http://www.epa.gov/safewater/lead/>.

We will update this report annually and will keep you informed of any problems that may occur throughout the year, as they happen. Copies are available at Fowlerville Village Office, 213 S. Grand Ave. or by calling (517) 223-3771. EXT. 10. This report will not be sent to you.

We invite public participation in decisions that affect drinking water quality. You may contact the Village Office located at 213 S. Grand Ave. Fowlerville, MI or call (517) 223-3771 for more information about your water, or the contents of this report. For more information about safe drinking water, visit the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency at www.epa.gov/safewater/.

Our system received a reporting violation in 2017. We failed to provide the lead and copper sample results by the deadline of October 20th, 2017 to the residences tested. Results were sent to the residences on November 15th, 2017. We apologize for this oversight, and our staff is making every effort to assure this does not happen again.

Michigan House Report

By Dr. Hank Vaupel,
47nd District

Prescription drug abuse is one of the fastest growing public health concerns in Michigan. With a rampant availability of opiates on the market, the likelihood of accidental overdose and abuse continues to rise.

This past week I delivered testimony before the House Health Policy Committee regarding a bill I sponsored requiring drug overdose treatment training to be included in any curricula for paramedics and first responders.

As the opioid epidemic continues, first responders need proper training to treat an individual experiencing a drug overdose.

The bill remains before the committee for its consideration.

This week I supported a measure to end driver responsibility fees and forgive outstanding debt associated with the fees.

The fees were enacted by a previous administration to fill a budget shortfall, but ultimately resulted in financial hardships for families across the state.

Approximately 300,000 Michigan drivers are required to pay these useless fees, which were sold as a way to improve driving skills but did nothing of the sort. This legislation will relieve people of burdensome debt they never should have had to begin with.

The bill package ends the fees on Oct. 1 of this year and forgives all outstanding debt in connection to the fees. The legislation also creates a grace period from enactment of the bill thorough Dec. 31, 2018 that enables them to get their driver’s licenses back without paying a $125 restoration fee. People on monthly payment plans will receive immediate forgiveness, and others may participate in workplace development training programs to regain their driver’s licenses prior to Oct. 1.

The money-saving measure was approved by the House and now moves to the governor’s desk to be considered for state law.

I was honored to participate in the Hartland Chamber of Commerce annual meeting where Carrie Jellison, CPA, was acknowledged as Chamber Member of the Year and I was able to recognize her with a state tribute.

Thank you to all who attended my February office hours. I hope you’ll be able to join me again next month on Friday, March 16 at the following times and locations:

--2:30 to 3:30 p.m. at Fowlerville Farms, 941 S. Grand Ave. in Fowlerville;

--4 to 5 p.m. at Biggby Coffee, 11325 W. Highland Road in Hartland; and

--5:30 to 6:30 p.m. at All Star Coney Island, 934 Michigan Ave. in Howell.

If you have any ideas, comments or questions for my office, please do not hesitate to call us at 517-373-8835 or send an email to HankVaupel@house.mi.gov. We are happy to hear from you!

Fowlerville High School to present murder mystery comedy March 16-18

Fowlerville High School is presenting The 39 Steps, the fast-past whodunit murder mystery comedy based on the 1935 Alfred Hitchcock movie by the same name. Show dates and times are: Friday, March 16, at 7 p.m., Saturday, March 17, at 7 p.m., and Sunday, March 19, at 2 p.m. at the Alverson Center for Performing Arts.

This zany two-time Tony-Award- winning comedy is full of nonstop laughs, a top-of-the-train chase, an onstage plane crash, and good old-fashioned romance. In The 39 Steps, a man with an ordinary existence, Richard Hannay, meets a woman with a thick accent who says she’s a spy. That night, she is murdered, and Richard Hannay becomes the main suspect! Hannay, feeling trapped is on the lam, chased by the police and a mysterious spy organization. Filled with inventive stagecraft and slapstick humor, this is a night of comedy not to be missed.

The play s directed by Betsy Ording. Starring are Wyatt Arledge as Richard Hannay, Audrey Trinka as Pamela: the woman on the train, and Mikenna Peckens as the mysterious spy. Cole Tomlin and Curtis Wormsbacher each play a whole host of characters--sometimes simultaneously, and many other students perform a variety of other characters, including pilots, thugs, and crocodile hunters.

Two Fowlerville wrestlers win district championships, advance to regionals

Wyatt Daniel won in the 119 lb. category and was the #2 seed at the regionals, while Hunter Wilson captured the 171 lb. class and was the #1 seed.

The Gladiators also received great performances in the “blood rounds” from Jack Brady, Deagun Gonzalez, Ashton Philburn and Nathan Gendron.

Card of Thanks

The Fowlerville High School Theatre Tech Club and The Unfettered would like to thank all who supported and participated in the All Grown-up Prom 2018 that was held on Saturday, February 10th.

The special event was a fundraising effort for the Fowlerville Family Impact Centers that raised $500, plus a multitude of donated personal care products. The donations will allow the Family Impact Center to continue its important work serving community members in need. Additionally, the Tech Club raised $200 toward their annual scholarship that is awarded to a qualifying graduate each Spring. Organizers of the event were grateful to be able to provide another wonderful opportunity to help others and have a great time doing it.

In spite of the Wintry weather, it was inspiring to see so many community members come out to show their support and a privilege to be able to speak individually with many of them. Our hope is that this may become an annual event where participation is a way to lend support in our own community.

With deepest appreciation,
FHS Theatre Tech Club and The Unfettered

Senator Hune has perfect voting attendance for seventh year in a row

For the seventh year in a row, state Sen. Joe Hune, R-Fowlerville, maintained a perfect record of voting attendance.

“In business or sports, when someone doesn’t show up to work, the whole team suffers,” Hune said. “The Legislature is not much different; we rely on each other to help tackle the important issues that our voters care about.”

Last year, the Senate had 622 roll call votes, bringing Hune’s total number of uninterrupted votes to 5,646 — the longest streak in the Senate by 650.

“You elected me to an office of public service; it’s my duty to represent you,” Hune added. “Luckily it’s also my pleasure, and every day I feel blessed to come to work and represent Michigan’s 22nd District.”

Hune was one of 14 senators who did not miss any votes in 2017. A full record of votes is available at www.MichiganVotes.org/MissedVotes.aspx.

Rezoning of land for proposed electric plant recommended

Handy Planning Commission also changes Master Plan & recommends zoning amendment
By Steve Horton

Whether or not a gas-fired electrical plant will be built in the southeast corner of Handy Township remains to be seen, but a key step was taken last week when the township planning commission approved a change to the Master Plan and recommended rezoning the parcels where the proposed facility would be located.

Competitive Power Ventures, headquartered in Maryland, has an option on five parcels owned by the Munsell family and the Krebs family and is in the initial phase of a two-year due diligence period to decide whether the location is suitable for their plant. Their interest in this property is due to two natural gas lines intersecting at this site and close proximity to the ITC electrical transmission lines. The close proximity to a transfer station that will be at the intersection of the pipes and to the high voltage electrical lines would cut down on building costs.

The plant would burn the natural gas to generate electricity. This power would then be sold on the grid to any large user of electricity, including investor-owned utilities, municipalities, or co-operatives. It was previously reported that the amount of power generated would be equivalent to over a million homes. A company official has said that the potential investment, if the project were to be undertaken, was put at “up to $1 billion.”

The plant, if it ends up being located at this site and finds sufficient customers for the power, would employ 24 to 28 workers. The time frame from the start of construction to having the plant operational was ball parked at around three years. The construction jobs have been estimated at between 300 and 500 people.

A public hearing had been held Jan. 25 on these three proposals. Over 40 people showed up, with many of them voicing their opposition to an electric plant locating in this area. The commission, following this input, voted to postpone a decision in order to “gather more information.” The meeting was scheduled for Feb. 14.

Anticipating that more people would show up than could be accommodated at the township hall, the meeting was reconvened at the Fowlerville Junior High auditorium. Their prediction proved accurate as 136 people signed in, filling most of the available seats.

After over an hour of hearing public comment—divided evenly between those favoring an electric plant and those opposed—the planning commission voted on three agenda items.

First of all, members approved a motion to change the Master Plan to include 125 acres in the southeast corner of the township as Research & Development (RD). This area had been Agriculture Residential (AR).

They then recommended the approval of an amendment to the zoning ordinance that would create a special use for any gas-fired electric generation plant seeking to locate in the township and the terms and conditions for that kind of land use.

Finally, and most significantly for those in attendance, the commission recommended rezoning five parcels in Section 36—the 125 acres—from AR to RD. Initially, a larger area had been proposed for inclusion in the Master Plan and rezoning, but was shrunk to a smaller size at the request of the property owners—the Munsell family and the Krebs family. The parcels are located south of Sargent Road, north of Mason Road, and west of the ITC electrical lines. Initially the area had included another 20 acres east of the lines and bordering the west side of Truhn Road.

The property owners, speaking at the meeting, requested that this strip of land be removed. Doing so would create more of a buffer zone between a plant and neighboring properties.

The parcels are also adjacent to the Fowlerville Proving Grounds which is zoned Research & Development.

The meeting and two of the approvals, however, were only round one. The commission has the final say-so on changing the Master Plan, but the ordinance amendment and the rezoning change now go to County Planning for their input and recommendation and then end up before the Handy Township Board for a final decision. The company will also need to obtain permits from state and federal agencies, including the Michigan Dept. of Environmental Quality and the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

John Enos, who is the planning consultant for the township, outlined what the planning commission was doing with the three proposals and how it operates. He also pointed out that “by law, we have to allow any legal use in the township, even those we don’t like,” adding that “Otherwise it’s considered exclusionary.”

He explained that the intent of the zoning amendment was to have language in place for regulating energy plants as a special or conditional use in a RD zoning area.

THIRTY-FIVE PEOPLE SPOKE DURING THE CALL TO THE PUBLIC. They brought up of a variety of reasons why township officials should either support or oppose the proposed plant.

Supporters, including tradesmen from the area who would likely work on the construction of the facility, cited those jobs and their positive impact on the area economy and for them.

Rich Benson of Marion Township was one of those in favor of the plant. “We would be blessed to have these (construction) jobs,” he said. “It would be great for the economy; we all have to eat and buy gas. This would also be a large source of tax revenue. In fact the company could be the largest tax payer in the county. As Livingston County continues to grow, they would help. It would also increase our electric reliability since you have coal plants shutting down.”

Jordan Jaime, who resides on Truhn Road, spoke against the project. “The idea of this being built across the street from my home is terrifying,” he said. “It would be the destruction of everything we hold dear. We bought our 10.5 acres in 1973.

“Think of actual people staring at this from across the road,” he told the commission members. “I’m wondering what this will do, the pollutants, to our children.”

Another neighbor, Donna Cochrane, who resides on Kern

Rooms will be available for the honored classes to meet and socialize. Tickets will be available after May 1st at local businesses to be announced.

Road in Iosco Township, expressed concern about the amount of ground water that might be used by the plant, citing 400,000 gallons per day. “Also, what will be done with the wastewater,” she asked.

Mark Jonckheere, a Handy Township farmer, noted that he lives near the site and had no problem. “This is going to create high skill jobs and employment for construction workers,” he pointed out. “Sooner or later a power company will come in. This is an opportunity to work with a company that wants to work with us and build a clean-operating plant. Otherwise you could have the public utility come in, take the land through eminent domain and have no control. The EPA and the DEQ will handle concerns about air and water quality.”

There had been comments made by a couple of speakers, stating that this type of power plant was “old technology” and that the township ought to instead encourage solar-powered energy.

Others who spoke claimed that much of the township would need to be covered with solar panels to generate the same amount of electricity as this plant would.

Tom Durand of Iosco Township pointed out that he moved here 26 years ago from Oakland County, adding that he wanted to move to a rural area. “I’m also an electrician,” he said, “I understand the tradesmen wanting to work (and supporting this project), but I don’t think you’d want it in your back yard.”

Frank Munsell, one of the land owners, commented that “everyone wants to be the last one here” and then oppose development proposals. He also addressed the use of groundwater. “The 400,000 gallons sounds like a lot, and it is if it were coming out of your bathroom spout,” he said. “But the Village of Fowlerville uses two million gallons a day. In Howell, it’s six million gallons a day. If you were irrigating 160 acres, you could be using 320,000 gallons.

“The closest person to this plant will be my nephew and that’s a half-mile away,” he added.

Two members of the Crossroads Group Sierra Club, with membership in Livingston County, urged the commission “to make an informed decision” and also voiced their opposition to the plant. Among their points was that the location was incompatible with an agriculture and rural residential area. They also noted that this would be an industrial use, not the typical development done in a Research and Development zoned area.

Senior Spotlight—Elizabeth Kowall

By Kelsey Mayville

“Loyal” is the first word junior Torri “Tonii” Simmons used to describe this week’s senior spotlight student, Elizabeth Kowall. She is the daughter of Adam and Teresa Kowall, and has been attending Webberville High School, since her freshmen year.

“Attending Webberville has been a great experience for me,” said Kowall. “I have met so many great people and it’s such a close community.”

Kowall has always been an outstanding student when it comes to academics. Her creativity really helped make her shine in all of her Art and English classes. She has also participated in Musical Theater her freshman year.

“Libby was a very inspiring student to work with when I had her in Art,” said teacher Dean Wilson. “She had a very clear vision of what she wanted to accomplish, which was due in no small part to her strong work ethic.”

Since her junior year, Kowall has been attending the Wilson Talent Center for the Welding Technology program where she has learned how to use special equipment and how to perform specific welding processes.

“This program has given me a lot of room to grow into the person I am today,” said Kowall. “I have gained so much knowledge, and I know it’s really going to help me with my future.”

After high school, Kowall plans to attend Hobart Institute of Welding Technology to take their welding program. After nine and a half months of being in this program, Kowall will receive five American Welding Society Certifications, and plans to pursue a career in this field.

“I see Libby doing what she loves,” said Simmons. “She has the motivation to succeed in whatever she does.”

Outside of school, Kowall is always found with all of her friends. She loves spending time just relaxing and making a bunch of memories.

“I am going to miss my friends the most when I graduate,” said Kowall. “I have so many great memories with all of them.”

Kowall is leaving behind a lasting impression at Webberville High School, and will continue to do so as she takes a step towards her future. With her strong character and drive, nothing will stop Kowall from accomplishing great things.

“My advice for Libby would be for her to keep her focus and strive to excel, which I’m sure she will do!” said Wilson.

Adam Coon beats Olympic Gold Medalist Snyder in classic match

By Steve Kornacki

ANN ARBOR, Mich. -- It looked like the Battle of the Bears.

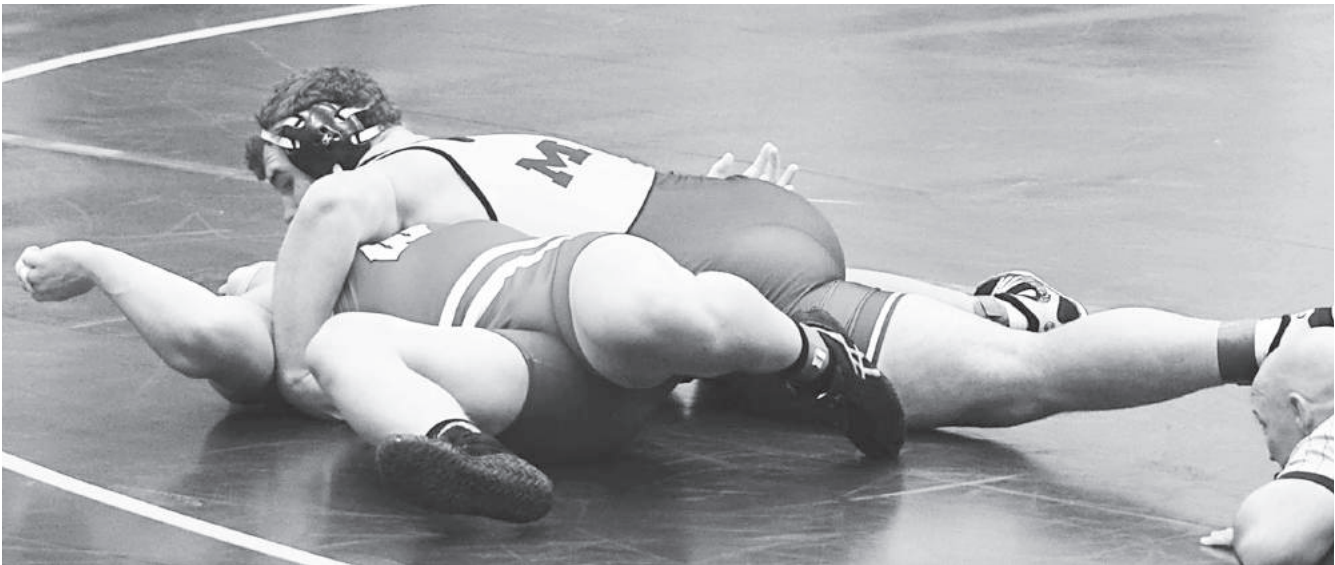

Michigan's Adam Coon and Ohio State's Kyle Snyder, the NCAA's top-ranked heavyweight wrestlers, pawed at each other in the center of the mat, looking for any advantage that could lead to takedown.

Coon got the only takedown of the match in the final seconds of the first period, and took the lead he never relinquished in a 3-1 victory over Snyder, who had seemed unbeatable until Coon became the first college wrestler to defeat the Olympic gold medalist since March 2015.

It was an intense battle that even resulted in blood on the mat. Snyder's right cheek was cut by what Coon said could've been his knee during a tussle for control, causing two timeouts to tend to his wound.

And when it was over, Coon shook his right fist triumphantly before briefly meeting with Snyder, who was No. 1 coming into the match. Then, while returning to his euphoric Wolverine teammates and coaches, Coon extended both arms, clenched his fists and shook for joy, a smile crossing his face.

"YEAHHHHHH!" shouted Coon, for all the dual meet

In an earlier match this season, Adam Coon pinned his University of Wisconsin opponent in 40 seconds. He's currently undefeated this year in 22 bouts.

record 8,303 in attendance Sunday (Feb. 11) at Crisler Center to hear.

And they roared back, as they had the entire match, "COOOOON!"

It was a magical moment, and even though No. 4 Michigan lost a hard-fought match to the No. 2 Buckeyes, 18-15, it seemed, because of what Coon had done, that the Wolverines had more to celebrate.

"My immediate feeling was being tired, exhausted, because it was one heck of a match," said Coon, a graduate student from Fowlerville, Michigan. "Then it was that realization of: 'I just beat the best in the world today.' It doesn't mean I'm going to beat him later, but I beat the best in the world today.

"That's where the 'YEAHHHHHH!' came from. That was the excitement."

Snyder was 7-0 this year and 35-0 over the last three seasons, winning two NCAA heavyweight championships. He took his greatness to the next level in the 2016 Rio de Janeiro Olympics, becoming the youngest gold medalist in U.S. wrestling history.

"That was a fun match," said Coon. "It got me to figuring out where I'm at right now, taking on the best guy in the world, and getting the win there. But I know he's going to get better, and I know I'm going to get better.

"So, it's all where we end at. It's nice to know that this is a stepping stone to where I'm at and where he's at. I know that he's going to take this match and watch it, and figure how to finish on me, and it's going to be one heck of a battle come Big Tens, NAAs, if we get a chance to face each other."

Coon had lost, 7-4, to Snyder in their only previous meeting in the 2016 Big Ten finals. Odds are they will meet there again, and possibly a third time this season at the NCAA Tournament next month in Cleveland.

Michigan coach Joe McFarland called it a "classic match" -- and it was a definite battle of wills.

Coon fought off a takedown attempt early in the first period before taking control with two points with his own takedown at the end of that period.

"I got that body locked up," said Coon, "and we'd worked on that in practice, knowing that he's a little smaller than I am. So, if I could get to his body, I felt that I could get ahold of him, and get a good grip. I felt it, and ran it as hard as I could, trying to get him to his back.

"I knew the team needed six points if we were going to win the dual, and so I was just doing everything I could to get my pin. He did a great job of fighting off his back. But it was great to get the takedown, and it really got the emotion going."

Coon had a two-point lead with less than a minute to go in the third period, but wanted the pin that would've tied the match in dramatic fashion. The Wolverines (10-3, 7-2 Big Ten) then would've won on the second tiebreaker -- which is pins -- because that would've been the lone fall recorded.

With 21 seconds remaining in the third period, Coon yanked Snyder's right leg up off the mat and began twisting his calf. He very nearly brought down Snyder by tripping his left leg as they bounced around in a semi-circle, but Snyder got out of it with seven seconds remaining and Coon collapsed onto him, unable to score the big finish.

It's hard to imagine anybody other than Snyder could've avoided disaster there.

"He did a great job of defending that single-leg," said Coon. "We get into another situation like that, and I'm definitely going to work on how the heck I finish that next time."

Coon paced the Michigan side of the mat before the match, slapping himself in the face several times as heavy metal music blared. Then he fed off the energy of the crowd, which repeatedly chanted his drawn-out last name.

"It was phenomenal," said Coon. "I've never been in an arena more packed. It was fantastic, and all of them cheering for me. That was great. Well, not everybody, there were some red people up there (wearing scarlet and gray)."

Coon (22-0) was hardly a one-man show in this one, though.

Stevan Micic, ranked No. 5 at 133 pounds, beat No. 2 Luke Pletcher, 11-5. Pletcher was 22-0 and Micic had been his victim in the Cliff Keen Las Vegas Invitational.

Sixth-ranked Myles Amine used a late takedown to pull out an emotional 6-5 win over No. 3 Bo Jordan at 174 pounds.

"It was the way he did it," McFarland said of Amine. "He got the lead, and then he lost the lead, and then he battled back and had to get that takedown at the end. He had to dig down deep and find a way to win, and that was a great win for him.

"Micic got revenge, too. We had four matches (with OSU wrestlers) in the Cliff Keen and lost three of them. I knew we were going to have to flip some of those. That was a great win for Micic."

No. 7 Alec Pantaleo and No. 9 Logan Massa also scored impressive victories over ranked opponents at 157 and 165 pounds, respectively, as the Wolverines served notice that they deserve to be in the national championship discussion.

"We didn't get done what we wanted to," said McFarland, referring to coming up short of the team victory. "But the fans got their money's worth tonight, and it was some great wrestling. We got a lot to build off, and a lot of people saw that our team should be in that conversation."

Still, Coon beating Snyder was what the people filing out of Crisler were talking about.

"Adam was really, really focused," said McFarland. "He was really dialed into the match. You could see it. He kept wrestling, and it was just a great match, and a great win for Adam. I'm real proud of him.

"To see those two guys going out there and laying it on the line...One of the things Adam told me last night was -- he's an engineer, he had the whole thing mapped out, what he was looking for and what to defend against. That's the engineer in him. But at the end, he said, 'You know what, nobody thinks I can win. I love being the underdog.' He relished that role and was able to get something done that a lot of wrestlers hadn't been able to do with Kyle Snyder, who's a beast."

I mentioned to Coon -- who's working on his master's degree in space engineering -- that they seemed like two big

This photo of Adam and Dan Coon was taken at a meet earlier in the season. Dan is a teacher and wrestling coach at Fowlerville Community Schools.

"It reminded me of something I saw on 'Weird Sports' with that boxing chess match," said Coon, referring to a hybrid sport consisting of six rounds of chess alternating with five rounds of boxing where victory can be claimed with either checkmate or knockout. "It reminded me of that."

"It was two bears pawing at each other, but we were also trying to find that little inch of good position. I found it with the under hook and got to the body. He found it and got to my legs a couple times. I was working inches to make sure I could get that foot back down. It's a game of inches, just like football. And us heavyweights look like football players. So, it came down to that -- inches."

The "inches" ended up on Coon's side, and he turned it into a milestone victory.

This article by Steve Kornacki appeared on the www.mgoblue.com web site. It is reprinted with permission from the University of Michigan Athletic Department.

Group of Fowlerville fans follow their hometown hero at U of M wrestling meets

While Adam Coon has a lot of Wolverine fans, among the most loyal and vocal are a group of Fowlerville fans who attend nearly all of his University of Michigan home wrestling meets.

"There are eight of us who go on a regular basis along with members of the Coon family," said Deb Utter, who is a season ticketholder. "Along with myself, there's Alyce Simonson, Rick and Debbie Hill, John Jelken, and Mickey, Chis and Mia Stock. There are others from Fowlerville who also show up on occasion. From time to time some of the young WOW wrestlers that he works with when he has time will attend a meet as well as other Fowlerville wrestlers."

"He's a remarkable young man and has worked hard to accomplish his success," she added.

Deb, who usually takes her camera to special events, has been photographing Coon at the meets since his freshman year.

FINALLY - Straight talk About Sciatica

Are you suffering from back pain or sciatica? Then it's likely your biggest problem is pain. But there's another major problem: bad information.

To end sciatica misery you must have the right information. Pay close attention because I'm going to destroy sciatica myths and give you the facts.

MYTH: Sciatica will just "go away" with some rest.

FACT: If you are dealing with back pain, buttock pain or leg pain, then you must seek help from a sciatica specialist immediately. Left untreated, sciatica can lead to permanent nerve damage - and lifelong pain.

MYTH: Pain is the only problem associated with sciatica.

FACT: In severe cases, sciatica can lead to the inability to control your bowels or bladder - leading to embarrassing situations.

MYTH: You must take pain medications to deal with sciatica.

FACT: Drugs like muscle relaxants, pain killers, narcotics, antidepressants, and anti-seizure medications have serious potential side-effects and do not cure the root cause of sciatica.

MYTH: "I must have done something wrong to get sciatica."

FACT: Physical work or simply sitting at a desk for long periods can lead to sciatica. Accidents and trauma can also be the culprits. Pregnancy can cause sciatica. Sciatica can affect anyone - including super-fit celebrities like Tiger Woods, Sylvester Stallone, and British Olympic medalist Ian Wynne.

MYTH: Stop exercising and get several weeks of bed rest to overcome sciatica.

FACT: Staying active can help to relieve sciatic pain and prevent the pain getting worse. Staying inactive in bed could be the worst advice - based on a recent study in the Netherlands.

MYTH: Sciatica requires surgery.

FACT: NO! There's been a huge breakthrough in the treatment of sciatica and lower back pain. It's a new procedure called Non-Surgical Re-Constructive Spinal Care. The excellent results from this treatment have been published in major medical journals. Success rates are up to 90%.

MYTH: "There's nothing anyone can really do. I'm just stuck with this for the rest of my life."

FACT: With the correct treatment from a healthcare professional who specializes in sciatica, you can find relief from the core cause - and the symptoms.

MYTH: Getting Sciatica properly diagnosed is expensive.

FACT: Not true. Dr. Ann Pushies of Pushies Chiropractic in Williamston is currently offering an initial consultation for just $43.

Spinal Disc Expert
in Williamston

Dr. Pushies is one of the greater Lansing's leading sciatica experts. Dr. Pushies has helped over 1,537 patients find relief from agonizing back pain and sciatica. She's one of the first professionals in the area to use Non-Surgical Re-Constructive Spinal Care.

This procedure does not require a hospital stay. The focus is on finding - and correcting - the original cause of the back pain and sciatica.

According to Dr. Pushies, "We use new diagnostic technology, not found elsewhere in the region, for precisely diagnosing the cause of your slipped disc. This means superior long-term results."

Almost Immediate Relief From Pain

Because the treatment is non-surgical, safe, and easy, most patients report an almost immediately relief from their back pain.

Patient Jeff P. from Williamston wrote, "My back pain was unbearable but the worst thing was the searing burning pain I felt in my buttock and leg... my wife insisted I see Dr. Pushies. I'm 95%
